

The National Junior Honor Society is a program of NASSP, the leading organization of and national voice for middle level and high school principals, assistant principals, and all school leaders from across the United States and more than 80 countries around the world. The association, located in Reston, VA, provides research-based professional development, resources, and networking and advocacy opportunities to build the capacity of middle level and high school leaders to continually improve student performance.

Reflecting its long-standing commitment to student leadership development, NASSP administers the National Honor Society (NHS), National Junior Honor Society (NJHS), National Elementary Honor Society (NEHS), and the National Association of Student Councils (NASC). The NASSP Board of Directors is responsible for the operational control of NJHS at the national level.

The national staff of NASSP serves students, activity advisers, and administrators in schools nationwide and internationally. Three resources govern the operation of chapters, members, and their activities: The NJHS National Constitution, this NJHS Handbook, and local chapter bylaws.

NJHS CONSTITUTION

All chapters must adopt and follow the NJHS National Constitution. This obligation is outlined in the chartering agreement signed by the founding principal of every chapter, and assumed by subsequent principals who maintain the chapter's affiliation with the national office. The constitution of the National Junior Honor Society is the primary governing document for all chapters. It has been approved by and can be amended only by recommendation of the national office staff and a vote of the NASSP Board of Directors.

All policies and procedures for NJHS chapters are based on the provisions of the NJHS National Constitution and this handbook. The following version of the NJHS Constitution was approved for all chapters on November 11, 2023 by the NASSP Board of Directors.

NJHS Constitution Notes

Article VIII, Section 5: Resignation or dismissal from NJHS has no bearing on future consideration for membership in NHS in high school.

Article IX, Section 1: Some candidates may be ineligible for induction because of the semester ruling. Many students, including students of military parents, are required to move with parents or guardians who have transferred in their work. The present school principal should seek a recommendation from the previous school principal or chapter adviser pursuant to the candidate's selection. On the basis of the recommendation from the previous school, the faculty council may waive the semester regulation.

Article IX, Section 2: Local chapters may raise the cumulative GPA standard above the national minimum, or increase standards for the remaining selection criteria, apply them fairly and consistently, and include these standards in their locally published selection procedures.

Article X, Section 1: To maintain compliance, all local procedures must conform to the full provisions of this article. Faculty councils can consider disciplinary actions that are less severe than dismissal if circumstances warrant.

Article XII, Section 3: This section is generally viewed to include chapter activities except those with regard to the selection, discipline, and dismissal of members which are the sole domain of the chapter's faculty council per the provisions of Article VII, Section 4.
